

March 23, 2020

A message from BUNTING regarding COVID-19:

To whom it may concern,

We would like to wish each of you, your loved ones, your coworkers and your families to remain safe from the current Covid-19 pandemic which is spreading across our country and around the globe.

Effective as of Friday, March 20, 2020 BUNTING implemented a COVID-19 response plan for all of our worldwide locations. This plan complies with local and national directives, which are currently affecting our individual locations, and those which may be introduced in the future.

We are taking numerous steps with our employees to mitigate the risks (working from home, split shifts, social distancing), depending on the location of our facility. Our responsibility is to keep supplying our customers with product while keeping our employees safe, healthy, and gainfully employed.

The different facilities at each worldwide site are following the advice of their local Countries and States and all sites have implemented plans for working from home, social distancing while maintaining production and the service you expect from BUNTING. Our entire staff have prepared, tested and verified their ability to support your needs from home offices. At our two UK manufacturing facilities all non- production staff are working from home, utilising the recent investments in computer and systems technology. This should be completely transparent to you and your interactions in contacting us should not change. Our UK and Mainland Europe sales offices can be contacted as normal.

Our production personnel will continue working their normal hours unless otherwise directed by federal, state or local mandates. We are all working together to supply our customers with the quality of product and the level of service they have come to expect from BUNTING.

The following services also remain fully operational:

- Stock Supply
- Spare Parts
- Breakdown Response
- Servicing
- Technical and Sales Support

If you any have questions or concerns regarding any of the BUNTING worldwide locations regarding the COVID-19 virus, please send an email to bmc@buntingmagnetics.com with "Bunting Covid-19" in the subject line.

Kindest Regards,

Robert Bunting
President/CEO

